The weekend starts here....RSG (#p134720)

by pat.dunham » Fri Oct 04, 2013 8:03 am

This weekend we should celebrate and remember 50 years ago to the day (Fri 4 Oct)that Dusty made her first solo appearance as presenter of Ready Steady Go. A pretty good job she made of it too, amongst the chaos that was RSG. Then on Sunday (6th Oct) The Springfields had their last performance at Sunday Night at the London Palladium.

What can you say except "Thank you Dusty for the music and for just being you. With our love."

Thanks Pat & Brian. 😊 Think I seem to remember Channel 4 repeating them in the 1980's I think 🤔 and they seemed a lot of fun 🥳 must have been great actually being at the recordings. 😎 Although there's the Motown special and a few scattered around youtube and on VHS/Laserdisc it's about time Dave Clark authorized the whole lot that are still remaining, to be re-released and shown again. 🙏🙏

Please

Didn't Dusty talk about watching the repeats on Terry Wogan's show? And something about fans turning her car over? 🤔 Can't remember exactly.

These photos are very nice. 😊

Dusty appeared, singing, on a lot of RSG programmes. She tells the stories of her mishaps with her cars on the Dutch TV interview. From other interviews Dusty tells of repeats of RSG in USA and UK. Perhaps they will be shown again soon.

Now that music copyrights have been extended for another twenty five years by the European Court that has killed any chance of RSG being issued on DVD. Dave Clark would dearly love to put them out, and he supported the fight to have the copyrights end, but as it stands the music royalties he'd have to pay precludes any possibility of profit.

It would be fantastic if these were released. Great pity. Thanks for all the info anyway.
