Hi everyone!

I walked the Race For Life in Hyde Park this morning. Thousands of women there....a sea of pink! Great.

How funny though, that on seeing my picture of Dusty that I had pinned to me (thankyou, the lovely Corinna for that!)..a lady in front of me said "I used to go to the same school as Dusty Springfield!"

Her name was Dierdre McKenna (I told her that I would give her a shout out on the Dusty Forum here!!)

She went on to say that she attended St Annes in Ealing (quite a few years after Dusty though) and that she was taught English by the late Dorothy Asquith, who also taught Dusty!

She also said that Dorothy told her what a good singer Dusty was, even in her school days.

Dierdre said she was very happy that Dusty was still being remembered so fondly.

Just a little tid-bit I wanted to share with you all.

Lots of love

Janice

thanks for that tidbit, Janice How great is it to meet someone who knew Dusty going back to her childhood...the importance of a pin...you never know who notices it and what will come from it.

I actually gave my favorite Dusty pin (I wear it on my bag) away to another loving Dusty fan this past weekend...I hope I can find another

....Good for you for walking, Janice. I hope they raised lots o' cash
