For all of you who wonder where this thread has gone, Tony (allhitradio) who was the original poster, has been asked by Endemol, the production company of the captioned tribute show, not to reveal any information previously given in this post.

Thus, Tony asked me to delete his thread, which is done hereby.

Brand new to BBC One, The One And Only... is a primetime Saturday night talent show that will leave viewers amazed and wondering if seeing is believing.

Presented by Graham Norton the programme will showcase the cream of tribute act talent in a quest to crown the UK's best tribute act and up for grabs is a prize that money can't buy.

Performers won't just want to sing like a superstar, they have to look like them, dress like them, and act like them. In fact they have to live, breathe and actually turn themselves into the superstar of their dreams.

Imagine the glamour and glitz of swinging Sinatra doing big band battle with the undisputed princess of pop Kylie. Or the timeless Elton John fighting it out against sexy chanteuse Cher in a bid to take the tribute act crown.

Auditions have taken place throughout the UK where many hopefuls paid tribute to their favourite idol to win a place in the nail-biting Superfan Singoff.

It is at this stage that the tribute acts for some of the world's greatest superstars have to pull out all the stops to impress the toughest panel of all – the Superfans of their idols.

Only ten tribute acts will make it through to the live shows and it's the Superfans who decide which ten acts are convincing enough to show off their talent to the nation.

All this leads up to the weekly live shows on BBC One, where the tribute acts will sing their hearts out in front of a studio audience full of friends and Superfans, to earn those all-important viewers' votes.

The tribute acts will be put through their paces as they try to capture the performing essence of an established superstar. They will be transformed into the star they idolise by a host of top professionals, from choreographers to make-up artists and costume makers.

Established vocal coaches to the stars Carrie and David Grant will be also on hand to mentor, prepare and perfect the sound of the acts.

For the winner there is a once in a lifetime opportunity – a three month performing contract in Las Vegas with the renowned Legends In Concert, the world's longest-running celebrity impersonator show.

Who can combine their looks, voice and acting talents into a complete package that suspends the audience's disbelief? Who will the nation choose as their greatest superstar double? Tune in to find out in early January 2008.

Sadly, despite being very excited about being chosen to be a panel member for the 'sing off', I had to leave the project and did not take part after all. The sing off was filmed a couple of weeks ago. The show featuring the three possible Dustys is being screened on 5th January on BBC1. Can't wait to see how the sing off went!

They started running the trailer for the show over the Christmas period. I've only seen one so far but I think there maybe more. The one I saw featured Frank Sinatra and possibly Kylie or Madonna and Lionel Richie at the end. I'd say these artistes are not the ones featured in the show but stand in's (apart from LR, who I think was the real thing!). I doubt they'd want to spoil the surprise by showing the acts before the show goes out on the 5th.

"Dusty" will definitely get through from the programme on the 5th as that's a pre-recorded show and not a knock-out. The knock-out's begin the weekend after. Probably a tough call, but it would be good if the latest Dusty could go all the way like Emma Wilkinson did in the Stars in Their Eyes final a few years back. Emma with the other finalists, some more recognisable than others 🙄

Going from bottom left anti-clockwise, I'd hazzard a guess at Jimmy Somerville, Caron (Soul II Soul) Wheeler, Gloria Gaynor, Dusty, Lionel Richie, Robin Gibb, Bob Marley, Geri Halliwell?, Lisa Stansfield, Cher.....not too sure about the 'horns' girl!!

Yeah i thought the chick with the devil horns was meant to be Ginger Spice too! She makes a better Ginger Spice than a Kylie.
