Unusual question...did anything Dusty ever scare you???

I thought of this when listening to the copy of the Drury Lane concert from 1979 and hearing that weird organ tune played before the joke intros and the medley. First the opening note comes out of nowhere, and I don't know if it's the quality of the recording or what, but the organ sounds warped and seems to speed up and slow down at intervals. It didn't scare me per se, but I found it definitely odd.

So do any of you have anything associated with a Dusty song or presentation that caught you off guard or even scared you?

P.S. mods, if this isn't the best fit for this post, feel free to move it to the appropriate folder.
