Updated PBS British Invasion Series (#p150641)

by edjames » Tue Apr 08, 2014 5:05 pm

Tonite (in NYC), PBS's Great Performances presents an updated British Invasion series special, The Dave Clark Five and Beyond - Glad All Over.

NYTimes reports that Dusty is a featured performer but I wouldn't hold out hope for some rare performance clip. I am sure we will see the BBC Dusty TV series clip of YDHTSYLM. Whether or not there will be additional interview footage commenting on Dusty music and career is another tale.

NYTimes says:

"This Great Performances Special event celebrates the 50th anniversary of the British Invasion with footage from some of the 18 appearances on "The Ed Sullivan Show" by the Dave Clark Five. and its 2008 induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, as well as clips featuring the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, the Who, Dusty Springfield, Stevie Wonder, the Supremes, Martha Reeves and the Vandellas, Marvin Gaye, Otis Redding, Freddie Mercury - and Laurence Olivier. Among those sharing memories are Paul McCartney, Elton John, Bruce Springsteen, Ozzy Osbourne, Gene Simmons, Whoopi Goldberg, Dionne Warwick, Twiggy and Ian."

Check your local listings in the USA for more broadcasts of this special in the near future, and rebroadcast, or check the PBS website for additional info, previews and online viewing:

Just finished watching this wonderful retrospective on the Dave Clark Five. Produced by Dave Clark, it's likely it has been shown in the UK. Probably so?

Anyway, I was a DC5 fan, so this reawakened some old time memories for me and my fondness for the group and their music and heavens knows, Dave Clark is/was gorgeous! But it was his ability to manage and produce that group that earns him high marks for near genius level. His skills negotiating his rights to their music was brilliant.

There are lots of clips of the group singing their hits and it covers the entire spectrum of their career from the sixties into the seventies.

Dusty does make a couple of cameos in the RSG clips (the Beatles interview) and surprisingly a all too short clip of her singing All Cried Out on a RSG show circa 1964/65. Grabbed my Complete Dusty Springfield and found no reference to her singing this on RSG. so a bit of a mystery. However, it brings up an often communicated pet peeve that there are "lost" Dusty clips out there. I have see pics of Dusty from this clip, but don't have the time right now to go through them all to see if I can locate one.

Also, on one Ed Sullivan appearance it ends with Dave walking cross stage to greet Ed and Ed saying "The DC% are heading back to London for a Royal Command (Variety???) performance..or words to that effect. Next a video clip of the Queen is seen heading into a theater bejeweled as always and then a clip of the DCS singing Georgia On My Mind. A pic is flashed on screen afterward showing the royal receiving line after the show and I could swear Dusty is in it but only partially seen. She did do one royal variety show back in 1965. I'll have to go back and freeze frame the DVR at that spot and check again.

So, all in all, a worthwhile trip down memory lane and fascinating look at one of the biggest groups of the 1960's...

Just got done listening to the Dusty tribute on WOMR radio. It was very good, wasn't crazy about the DJ, but the music was good as with any Dusty Songs. He did mention DD which was nice. Part two next week. 😊

Also Ed, I wonder if the All Cried Out clip you saw could have possibly been from Pop Spot the show where she mimed to three songs, All Cried Out being one of them. See the pic below.

Carole, I saw it, too, and Dusty didn't wear the same clothes. She was wearing this (picture from Can I Get a Witness):

Thank you Carole, I knew you'd come up with the "royal" photo...surely there must be a more focused shot of Dusty meeting her majesty...(and not the one with Tom Jones from the London Palladium in 1968...). Interestingly, if the DC5's Royal Variety performance was taped, one might assume that footage of the entire show is sitting in DC's vaults? Dusty sang IJDKWTDWM.

Also, this clip of All Cried Out is not the Pop Spot performance. I've seen the video of that show. This was most definitely a RSG performance as this special focused on DC's ownership of the RSG footage. And, yes, must have been the same show as the Can I Get A Witness clip, 'cos that's the outfit!

Well done, mysteries solved....now let's get that video clip! What's DC's email address???? LOL

🤔 Yes, now that DC-5 is getting some media attention maybe he'll be encouraged to come off some of those tapes he's been sitting on. 🤝 (for a pretty price I'm sure) 😏

Love that too, Dusty of course defied apartheid in South Africa with black musicians and this showed in her private and stage life.

Do you know of any Dusty group meetings as I don't have any Dusty friends at all, I work at home as a degree student home study and lifestyle psychic counselling ??

Love Robert and Trudy 01133181019 Sundays only ...
