Wishin' and Hopin' BBC (#p88423)

by BornTooLate » Fri Feb 17, 2012 2:29 pm

Hello everyone. According to the bible there's a recording of "Wishin' and Hopin'" from Top Gear that was recorded in July of 1964. I know the recording from November 1964 made it onto the BBC sessions CD. But is there a bootleg copy of the July recording anywhere? I'm looking for it because of a paper I'm writing. It wouldn't be the end of the world if I can't find it, but it would really give solid support for my argument.

If not- are there any bootlegged recordings of the "Wishin' and Hopin'" prior to September 1964?

I like being thorough, as some of you have probably noticed by now.

Thanks!

Will check out fb, thanks for jeans up.

To bump a threAd means to post on it so that it will move upon the active list. Was thinking maybe Carole g would have an answer , but had missed the thread.

I don't think I have this version. I looked through old live stuff that has been put onto CD for me but can't see it. I have lots of tapes that I haven't been through but I'm sure Fraser moved everything I had to CD, so I doubt I'll find it there either. Sorry 🙄

Aww- thanks for going through your old live stuff!!!! If it's out there it'll show up sometime, I'm sure. Or I hope. Haha. I just want to hear what it sounded like live before she performed it at the Brooklyn Fox when 1. She was able to spend a whole bunch of time with Motown people and 2. She got to sing offstage with Martha and the Vandellas.

There aren't any other pre-Brooklyn-Fox performances that took place were there? (that have been documented, of course)
