

Let's Talk Dusty!

The Ultimate Forum for Dusty Springfield Fans
Skip to content

 Advanced search

YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ?

Post a reply

39 posts • Page 1 of 1

YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27701)

by Chris66 » Mon Jul 26, 2010 2:40 pm

I know this has been posted before but it always interests me. What was your first DUSTY record/tape/cd ?

My first DUSTY record was Golden Hits LP . My Mum and Dad were Dusty fans and so they bought the early singles. But when I got my own record player I was in heaven when GOLDEN HITS was released, Saved up some pocket money and bought it . Still got it by the way.

What about you

Cheers

Chris

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27704)

by Carole R. » Mon Jul 26, 2010 2:47 pm

My first Dusty single was IOWTBWY and my first Dusty album was Everythings Coming Up Dusty...

These purchases were bought after a great deal of thought, as I had hardly any money in those days.. 🙄🙄

CR xx

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27707)

by karen » Mon Jul 26, 2010 2:54 pm

Same for me Carole, have been playing some of this old vinyl lately, great memories. 😊😄

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27712)

by humboldt » Mon Jul 26, 2010 3:24 pm

'Losing You'. It has been my fav Dusty song ever since.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27717)by Brian » Mon Jul 26, 2010 3:56 pm

Apart from the Lana Sisters singles, and The Springfields singles/albums, my first purchase was IOWTBWY on the day it was issued - likewise 'A girl called Dusty' album a couple of months later.

Brian

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27722)by Cardiff Bluesgirl » Mon Jul 26, 2010 4:40 pm

I started with the Springfields and then bought the single IOWTBWY and of course into Cardiff on the bus to queue up for my first LP AGCD. bought all the rest as they came out and then caught up with her on her reappearances with all the various releases. 😊😊

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27725)by daydreamer » Mon Jul 26, 2010 4:49 pm

I'm more or less the same as Brian but I never owned any Lana Sisters records, it began with the Springfields. I had most of what they released, probably missed a couple of early ones, but I can't remember exactly which order I bought them in. Silver Threads would more than likely have been the first single.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27741)by trek007 » Mon Jul 26, 2010 7:21 pm

Island of Dreams as a birthday present, then i bought IOWTBWY.

I saved up my pocket money and bought A Girl Called Dusty..

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27783)by andyp » Tue Jul 27, 2010 4:04 am

It was Silver Threads & Golden Needles for me. When I heard that voice, I was hooked!!

Andyp

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27787)by jeffery » Tue Jul 27, 2010 6:08 am

😡 Never even saw a Dusty Springfield album until I started hunting them 2 years ago. 😡

😄 First purchase?- - 3/CD Anthology 🎧

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27791)

by MissDustyFanatic » Tue Jul 27, 2010 6:30 am humboldt wrote:

'Losing You'. It has been my fav Dusty song ever since.

Isn't that just the case? 😊 I can only imagine the thrill of hearing something a song that amazing for the first time..something like that has to stay with you.

My first Dusty CD was "The Ultimate Collection" (pink cover) released in the States. I'd first heard Nadia Turner (contestant on American Idol) sing YDHTSYLM in 2004 and thought it was a really pretty song, so I wanted to find out about the original artist, and thought a compilation was the way to start. It had two Springfields tracks and then.... "I Only Want to Be with You" busted out of the speakers in all its glorious joy. I listened to the rest of the CD in wonder, amazed that music recorded nearly 40 years before could sound so fresh and so well-crafted. I've been hooked ever since. 🎧

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27809)

by Chris66 » Tue Jul 27, 2010 7:42 am

I expected a lot of us who have been with Dusty from the start would of course start from the beginning - pocket money permitting in many cases. It's great to hear from the NEW Dusty fans who suddenly find this treasure trove of fantastic music from our girl.

Thanks

Chris

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27818)

by wally » Tue Jul 27, 2010 9:42 am

Bambino was my first and i did not even have a record player, had to use someone elses, this then progressed to Island of Dreams etc and then collecting the back catalogue. IOWTBWY was purchased on the day of release but always had to listen in the "listening booths" first

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27834)

by Chris66 » Tue Jul 27, 2010 11:11 am

I think I listened to GOLDEN HITS before I bought it at Wilson Pecks record shop in Sheffield. They had the most booths. You could only listen to singles on Saturdays though - no LP's

Great Days

Chris

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p27841)

by Tom Lovett » Tue Jul 27, 2010 12:04 pm

The voice hit me on 'Say I Won't Be There' and has been with me ever since.
Didn't know she was a Lana sister til mid 70's when the D S Bulletin began.
Bit of a vinyl freak collect any thing from any country with Dusty on it.
In 7th Heaven when I found out about 7" Picture sleeves, some 35 yeqrs later still looking.

Tom the Elder.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28011)

by Chris80 » Wed Jul 28, 2010 5:57 pm

I'm nearly a newcomer. I knew her major hits from the radio, but I started to realize her talent after I bought my first Dusty CD two years ago. It was "The Very Best Of Dusty Springfield". Why did I choose this one? First it was the only Dusty CD in the record store 🤔; secondly I loved and still love her picture on the front cover:

very-best-dusty-springfield-cd-cover-art.jpg

very-best-dusty-springfield-cd-cover-art.jpg (1.52 KiB) Viewed 1758 times

This CD was the starting shot. In the meantime I have most of her albums, although there are some missing gaps from the 70's (Cameo!!, See All Her Faces). I discovered this great LTD board with very pleasant members and had my first miniDD this July! 😊

Let's see the further steps... 🏠

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28027)

by Cardiff Bluesgirl » Wed Jul 28, 2010 7:22 pm

so much to absorb but youth on your side so I bet you remember the facts better than all us old crocs 🤔 you seem to have gathered loads of her music, so good on you for that, what a treat it must have been to hear all the different albums she made. I suppose you know all your missing ones are on eBay and some on Amazon, you can also get lots of vinyl, if you like them from "musicstack" glad you survived your first mini DD now just imagine the madness of that many times over for the Dusty weekend. 🤪

Last edited by Cardiff Bluesgirl (./memberlist.php?mode=viewprofile&u=299) on Wed Jul 28, 2010 7:43 pm, edited 1 time in total.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28031)

by Starlight » Wed Jul 28, 2010 7:38 pm

My first cd was last yr and it was 'Just Dusty' ❤️ I have a fair few albums now, don't know which one's I'm missing though.

I love that picture too. 🤔👍

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28039)

by memphisinlondon » Wed Jul 28, 2010 8:39 pm

'Cameo' on vinyl bought for a couple of quid because it had been remaindered/deleted.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28053)

by DustysBoy » Thu Jul 29, 2010 1:00 am

Vinyl wise my first was the Stay Awhile/I Only Want To Be With You Lp.....I like the pic of Dusty on the front too!...always thought it was a cute one.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28056)

by neonouille » Thu Jul 29, 2010 2:06 am

😞 I don't have Dusty CD... 😞

I know, it's a shame, but I preferred to buy DVDs before. I will buy CDs, soon.

My first Dusty song was I Only Want To Be With You and my first DVD was Live at the Royal Albert Hall.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28058)

by mnmcv1 » Thu Jul 29, 2010 3:26 am

Samuel. 🙄🙄🙄

not one?!

i will gladly mail you my first Dusty CD. 😊

my first was a US compilation- i think The Very Best of Dusty Springfield or the Millenium Collection.

the first studio album was Dusty in Memphis.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28070)

by neonouille » Thu Jul 29, 2010 11:54 am

I'm a Dusty fan only since 2008. Please, give me a chance.

In 2 years (almost day for day), I bought:

Dusty Springfield Live at the BBC
Dusty Springfield Reflections
Dusty Springfield Live at the Royal Albert Hall
Dusty Springfield Once Upon a Time 1964-1969
Just Dusty: The Real Dusty Springfield
Dusty Springfield on TV 1969-1993
The Complete Dusty Springfield (2009 version)

My next step is to buy CDs in waiting the DVD Dusty in Deutschland.

You forgive me? 😞

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28092)

by mnmcv1 » Thu Jul 29, 2010 1:49 pm

oh, Samuel...I didn't mean that in a bad way!

I'm just surprised you have so much knowledge of Dusty's music, without having anything on CD (or cassette, or vinyl, etc) It's actually impressive... 🤔 while I bought my first Dusty CD over a decade ago, it's only been in the last year that I've really started accumulating a collection. Before 2009, all I had was that greatest hits CD, Memphis and an import CD (I think from Germany) called The Ultimate Collection.

the offer stands for my first CD, as I have duplicated the songs on it in my collection many times over. 😊

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28131)

by neonouille » Thu Jul 29, 2010 7:53 pm

mnmcv1 wrote:

oh, Samuel...I didn't mean that in a bad way!

I'm just surprised you have so much knowledge of Dusty's music, without having anything on CD (or cassette, or vinyl, etc) It's actually impressive... 🤔

Thank you. 🌹 I know I'm late about knowledge of Dusty's music, but I try to do my best to be a better Dusty fan. Even if I don't have CDs for the moment, there are always some website where I can find complete albums free.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28134)

by Chris80 » Thu Jul 29, 2010 8:02 pm

Don't hurry, Samuel. Time is on your side! 🕒

Your DVD collection is amazing, I can't compare with you!

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28138)

by Corinna » Thu Jul 29, 2010 8:33 pm

My first CD was the Silver Collection. I got curious and borrowed Full Circle from the library (!). And, well, the rest is history. 😊

I don't necessarily collect vinyls or CD compilations, but I'm a completist with regards to Dusty's recordings and performances (both audio and video). 🟢

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28145)

by mnmcv1 » Thu Jul 29, 2010 9:00 pm

neonouille wrote:

mnmcv1 wrote:

oh, Samuel...I didn't mean that in a bad way!

I'm just surprised you have so much knowledge of Dusty's music, without having anything on CD (or cassette, or vinyl, etc) It's actually impressive...

Thank you.  I know I'm late about knowledge of Dusty's music, but I try to do my best to be a better Dusty fan. Even if I don't have CDs for the moment, there are always some website where I can find complete albums free.

take your time, Samuel.

you still have alot ahead of you to discover...

PS- Je ne savais pas que tu parlait francais! (tu habite au Quebec, alors je devrais avoir conu...LOL).

Mon pere est Canadian...je parle francais, mais pas tres bien.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28148)

by neonouille » Thu Jul 29, 2010 9:44 pm

mnmcv1 wrote:

PS- Je ne savais pas que tu parlait francais! (tu habite au Quebec, alors je devrais avoir conu...LOL).

Mon pere est Canadian...je parle francais, mais pas tres bien.

Ton français écrit est très bon cependant! Je peux t'aider à pratiquer, si tu veux.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p28194)

by mnmcv1 » Fri Jul 30, 2010 2:42 pm

neonouille wrote:

mnmcv1 wrote:

PS- Je ne savais pas que tu parlait francais! (tu habite au Quebec, alors je devrais avoir connu...LOL).

Mon pere est Canadian...je parle francais, mais pas tres bien. 🙄

Ton français écrit est très bon cependant! Je peux t'aider à pratiquer, si tu veux.

merci! mon francais escrit- n'est pas mal. Mon francais parle est!...lol when i was a kid and my grandmother was still around, my french was MUCH better (I was never fluent, but I could hold a basic conversation). It's lousy now- no one to talk to. 🙄 so yes, Samuel, I'd love your help practicing. 🙄👍

I was watching the old movie Diabolique a few weeks back, and all I can say is thank goodness for subtitles. 🇩🇪🇵🇱

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p60473)

by jeffery » Wed Jun 15, 2011 4:41 pm

🟢 Although this is probably not the most popular DVD this is the thing that did it for me !

(./download/file.php?id=5514&mode=view)

I can't remember the exact day, but I remember the circumstances about 4 years ago. I get off work about 10, or 10:30PM, routinely and come home to fix something to eat, then sit down at the tube for some entertainment. I tuned in PBS, and this documentary was on. I'd always wanted to know more about this woman, and there I am spellbound eating a ham sandwich with chips, and drinking a beer. I was so tired of having ass crack, and boobs flashed in my face that I couldn't get over this girl in full length skirt and sleeves relying only on her talent to SING ! I was mesmerized , and have been pursuing her artistry ever since. Among the interviews in the documentary my favorite quote is from B.J. Thomas who simply says, "Those Eyes !" Love you Dusty 🍷

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p61812)

by Tez » Mon Jun 27, 2011 9:57 pm

Father Christmas bought me IOWTBWY for Christmas 1963 and I played it to death on my first record player that Christmas (a blue battery operated one that could only play singles!). My first album was ECUD and my first EP was DINY, I had to save my pocket money like crazy!

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p61815)

by terri » Mon Jun 27, 2011 10:28 pm

I first heard Dusty and searched for Something in Your Eyes. I never associated Richard Carpenter with the song. There was no internet, thus you heard songs on the radio. My first album was SOAPM and other Hits on a cheapo label. I did eventually find a 45 I believe of Something in Your Eyes. 😊

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p61817)

by neonouille » Mon Jun 27, 2011 10:57 pm

jeffery wrote:

[^] Although this is probably not the most popular DVD this is the thing that did it for me !

Dusty Reflections.jpg

Not popular? Really? It's today my favourite DVD but it was not the case at the beginning.

When I first watch it, in October (16), last year, I was disappointed because almost every clips were on YouTube. I found also that it was too short (60 min) After a moment, I was ashamed of these thought and I realized what this DVD meant. (And Dusty in Deutschland lasts only 35 minutes without Procol Harum and the others.)

In summary, it's my favourite DVD and it played an important part for me too!

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p61830)

by mnmcv1 » Tue Jun 28, 2011 4:01 am

neonouille wrote:

jeffery wrote:

[^] Although this is probably not the most popular DVD this is the thing that did it for me !

Dusty Reflections.jpg

Not popular? Really? It's today my favourite DVD but it was not the case at the beginning.

When I first watch it, in October (16), last year, I was disappointed because almost every clips were on YouTube. I found also that it was too short (60 min) After a moment, I was ashamed of these thought and I realized what this DVD meant. (And Dusty in Deutschland lasts only 35 minutes without Procol Harum and the others.)

In summary, it's my favourite DVD and it played an important part for me too!

i like both DVDs- i first saw Deutschland at Nancy's, and it really blew me away. That's quality vs. quantity (or maybe oddity vs. Quantity. Curt always asks for it as "the one in the bubble" 🤪). either way it's fun. Reflections has that PBS feel to it, but is MORE than worth owning. I'm not really fascinated by BJ Thomas' revelations (Petula is a lil' more watchable) but those performance clips are great- "I Only Want to Be With You" on Ed Sullivan, etc.

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p102223)

by darren2722 » Sat Sep 01, 2012 6:21 pm

[quote="Corinna"]My first CD was the Silver Collection. I got curious and borrowed Full Circle from the library (!). And, well, the rest is history. 😊

I'm a bit late on this, but The Silver Collection was my first Dusty Album as well, but on vinyl, which I bought in 1988 with the fabulous Warhol like sleeve. I got interested after her success with the Pet Shop Boys. Prior to this I had played some tracks of my mum's Pickwick greatest hits as a kid. (not sure of exact title). but hadn't gone any further despite thinking she had a fabulous voice. 😊

First and only single (so far) I bought was In Private in 1989 or 1990.

Bit ashamed to say I then had a gap of over 20 years before I (re)discovered there was a lot more to Dusty than just 24 of her greatest hits -when my brother-in-law burned me another Dusty compilation. 🙌

Then earlier this year I FINALLY Decided to delve in to her back catalogue where I discovered untold riches. ❤️

So over the last few months my Dusty addiction has finally happened. 🎉

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p102490)

by andyp » Wed Sep 05, 2012 6:04 am

My first Dusty record was exactly that - a 7" 45 rpm vinyl - Silver Threads and Golden Needles. I love playing at full blast for the best effect. It was the first time I heard Dusty and the rest is history.

Andyp

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p104580)

by Mikey_C » Sun Oct 07, 2012 2:27 pm

Image

My first Dusty recording was "Breakfast in Bed" on this free tape, given away with the first edition of Select magazine in 1990. This led to me getting Dusty in Memphis, and it rolled from there...

Top

Re: YOUR FIRST DUSTY RECORD ? (#p105833)

by denhutch » Tue Oct 30, 2012 11:19 am

Hi All

My first Dusty record was Golden Hits.

I got it for my 17th Birthday.

My brother was dating his future wife then and she was a fan.

She had the LP and she wanted the words to the songs and he asked me to write them down for her, which I did.

I fell in love!!

As soon as I had the money, I bought it for myself. I still have it.

My favourite was Goin' Back.

My sister who was 27 loved it too. She'd say "put on black eyes" and we'd listen to it over and over again.

Sadly my sister died shortly afterwards and I could never listen to Dusty without thinking of her. (still don't)

I couldn't play the LP for a while, when Goin' Back would start it was unbearable.

Then "I close my eyes and count to ten" came out and I bought that. It eased me back into listening to "Golden Hits" again and it was such a comfort.

It is hard to explain but Dusty has Always been a comfort to me in hard times and a joy in good times. I'm sure a shrink could tell me why, I don't know why, but I'm grateful.

My last Dusty album is oddly enough "Goin' Back" (my own full circle) the big pink box set.

I listened to the pared back version and I cried, it is so touching. For years I hoped someone could do a job like that and let the voice shine and it happened. Thanks Dusty.

Top

Display posts from previous:

Post a reply

39 posts • Page 1 of 1

Return to You Set My Dreams To Music

Jump to:

Who is online

Users browsing this forum: No registered users and 7 guests
Powered by phpBB® Forum Software © phpBB Group :: Style: L_Antre